Transaction announcement

September 20, 2021 (Helsinki, Finland)

Translink Corporate Finance announces the acquisition of 100% of the shares in Suomen Ensiapukoulutus Oy ("SEAK") by Presto Group. SEAK is the leading provider of digital first aid and certification courses in Finland. Translink acted as the exclusive financial adviser to the Company and the owners of SEAK.

SEAK was able to quickly replace its on-premise courses with digital and hybrid courses, when Covid-19 restrictions came into force in 2020. Thanks to the rapid digitalization of their offering SEAK was the only company in its segment to increase its turnover in 2020 and has continued to win market shares in 2021 to achieve a dominant position within digital trainings. SEAK currently employs 10 people and has more than 100 independent instructors all over Finland executing their courses.

Presto Group is the leading fire safety company in the Nordics and after the acquisition of SEAK also the leading training company for first aid and safety certification courses. Filip Bjurström, CEO, commented on the transactions: "We continue our growth journey in the Nordic region through acquisitions and the fact that Suomen Ensiapukoulutus will now become part of Presto is a natural step to strengthen our offering in the Finnish market."

CEO and shareholder Tero Roivainen was very pleased Translink as financial advisor: "As the market leader in digital first aid and safety trainings in Finland we wanted to find a partner that could help us expand also abroad. Translink introduced us to Presto and we rapidly found a common understanding on how we together can become the dominate player in this market segment in the Nordics"
